(((ELITE)))

Okayo's ELITE is a standalone intercom system by which distinct and confidential communication among 6 team members exists no obstacles. Featuring clear display and intuitive (programmable) talk button, it is quick to set up and easy to use. Thanks to AES128 encryption, conversation among team members is secured. In addition, each ELITE team can be bounded all the time and won't be disturbed any more. Power-On and Go ease daily startup without confusion. Proprietary "ATTENTION" allows the team leader/director to draw members' attention by muting their microphones and announce any important message at any time. Moreover, side tone is adjustable upon demand and onsite environments. Combining with lightweight, inherent rugged design and sturdy belt-clip, ELITE becomes a truly helpful tool specifically in various industrial sites. Even, with the capability of 15-hour battery life and up to 200-meter range, it is applicable for a variety of markets, including coaching, corporate training, logistics, manufacturing, internship, security, theater rehearsal and so on. Transportation case is also available on request which comes with 1 proprietary charging station C6 and 6 ELITE.
